

Are You and Your Contact Lenses Still the Right Match?

Life is unpredictable—and changes over time. Getting the most out of your contact lenses requires they fit your lifestyle and visual needs now, not as they once were.

How Has Your Life Changed?

Perhaps you have experienced:

If any of these sound familiar, arrange an appointment today.

This will ensure your contact lenses continue to be well-suited to your individual needs. A change in lens technology, flexible daily disposable wear, or improvements to the health of your eyes' surface can affect comfort and vision for the better.

Please note that...

Your eye care professional will take all the necessary steps to keep you safe throughout your visit. Some parts of the exam may be conducted remotely. During your appointment, masks and personal protective equipment may be used, scheduled times spaced and enhanced disinfection protocols practiced.
